525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West [illegible]
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETE

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE EASTERN BASE of the Rocky Mountains, and it is [illegible] that the track will be laid thirty [illegible] to [illegible] the highest point on the road, by [illegible] The grade from the foot of the [illegible] to the [illegible] is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of [illegible] is over one [illegible] Work in the rock on the western slope will continue [illegible] the [illegible] and there is now no [illegible] that the line to the Pacific will be open for [illegible] in 1870.

The means provided for the [illegible] of this [illegible] National Work are [illegible] The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a [illegible] lien as [illegible] and receives payment to a large if not to the full [illegible] of its claim in [illegible] These [illegible] are [illegible] as each [illegible] mile section is finished, and after it has been [illegible] by the United States C[illegible] and [illegible] to be in all respects a first-class road, thoroughly [illegible] with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of [illegible] to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and [illegible] large portions are covered with heavy pine [illegible] and [illegible] in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. M[illegible] and Hon Oakes Ames are Trustees for the B[illegible] and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent [illegible] and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five [illegible] have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present, the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and, as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's

American Citizenship

The rights of American naturalized citizens in foreign countries is a subject which is again giving rise to a good deal of discussion in Congress, and elsewhere. Several persons claiming to be naturalized citizens of the United States have been executed in England for violating British law, and others are under arrest on charges of the same nature. George Francis Train has managed to get himself arrested on British soil on suspicion of being connected with the Fenians of [illegible], and this bombastic talker thus obtains the further notoriety which he seeks with canine [illegible] and swinish [illegible]. Secretary Seward, it is said, will demand the immediate release of all American citizens who have not violated English law, a proceeding which is highly proper, and [illegible] if any such persons are under in England, cannot be taken too soon. A resolution has also been [illegible] in Congress to demand an [illegible] for the execution of O'Brien, who [illegible] to be an American citizen, and [illegible] that the United States will acknowledge no right of interference by other nations [illegible] naturalized citizens of this country. It is [illegible] to divine what this resolution means. If [illegible] the United States will not allow Great Britain to punish naturalized citizens of this [illegible] who may return to England and violate her laws, it is sheer nonsense. Yet this seems [illegible] purport of the resolution. Certain persons claiming to be naturalized citizens of the United States have been convicted in England of [illegible] with Fenian outbreaks in which quite a [illegible] of persons were killed. These acts were [illegible] of English law, and the persons convicted [illegible] executed, without inquiring [illegible] American citizens or subjects of the [illegible] of the Russias. That England [illegible] is [illegible] natural; any nation [illegible] under similar circumstances. [illegible] not [illegible] a word against the [illegible] which the Fenians are so [illegible]. But the Fenians should remember that they are engaged in a most hazardous [illegible], whether it is just or not, [illegible] that England should deal with [illegible]. They run these chances [illegible] expect that the British authorities [illegible] who are taken in [illegible]. If American citizens join in the [illegible] into British hands, they also must [illegible] and it makes no difference [illegible] or naturalized citizens of [illegible] stand as to this, precisely [illegible] will punish all [illegible] participated in these [illegible] of war with other [illegible] she will be com[illegible] are subject to the [illegible] where they may reside, and the [illegible] Great Britain and every [illegible] king. [illegible] the United States who have [illegible] will not release any [illegible] at her own [illegible] native or naturalized citizens [illegible] of the [illegible].

[illegible] right of a foreign nation [illegible] naturalized citizens [illegible] on business or pleasure [illegible] nativity, is not at all in [illegible] question is not of their [illegible] from their [illegible], for Great Britain does [illegible]. It is simply whether the [illegible] on the subject, are not [illegible] in punishing those who [illegible]. About eighteen years [illegible] made a [illegible] Col. Crittenden, with [illegible] by the Spanish forces, [illegible]. The United [illegible] for the [illegible] proceeding would have [illegible] were engaged in an un[illegible] with which [illegible], they [illegible] these who [illegible] to British [illegible] into British hands they [illegible]. All citizens of the United [illegible] entitled to claim the [illegible] as citizens, [illegible] the laws of the country [illegible] but if they violate those [illegible] for their own acts, and [illegible] the smallest right to in[illegible].

Were this the [illegible] would soon become what [illegible] of every establish[illegible] in the world. If England holds [illegible] under arrest for words [illegible], or on mere suspi[illegible] with seditious projects, or [illegible] a direct violation of En[illegible] should be taken by [illegible] for the out[illegible] naturalized or na[illegible] in acts which [illegible], they must [illegible]. PLUMP WOMEN.—The New York Ga[illegible] flouts the idea of [illegible] suffrage being the [illegible] want of the age and in a highly enthused article, plants itself on the proposition that the millennium will never arrive till all the generations of the female persuasion shall become plump and robust. It says:

"This country has no greater want, at the present time, than plump women. Let us have them plump and healthy, whether they know anything or not. We can [illegible] what they don't know, if necessary, by all [illegible], let us have blooming, rosy, solid women. The Pacific Railroad is not half so important to the prosperity of this country as the aggregate avoirdupois of its [illegible]. The female sex of America ought to weigh at least half again as much as it does now."

[illegible] the Dramatic Chronicle comes also to the [illegible] and declares that, "if it is [illegible] so vital a matter to have plump women, let us wake up to the importance of this subject. Let Banting, whom so many ladies of solid [illegible] have regarded as a great [illegible] factor, be [illegible] forthwith; and let his system be proscribed as the most pernicious of [illegible] and all who practice it [illegible] to condign punishment. Let our State Fairs of [illegible] to the cultivation of [illegible] in [illegible] as in pigs, and offer at least as liberal prizes for rotund and well-conditioned [illegible], as for well-conditioned swine. * * * Novelists, poets, and [illegible] can also do much to promote this great object. Let [illegible] unite to reform the ideal of female loveliness. Let us have no more delicate heroines with 'sylph like forms and airy tread,' after the pattern of Tennyson's [illegible]:

"So light as any wind that blows,
So fleetly did she stir,
The flower she stepped on [illegible] and rose
Then turned to look at her."

Not any more of this pattern, gentlemen, if you please. A more robustuous standard of beauty must be held up for admiration. The hour-glass style of waist, and the [illegible] style of foot must be [illegible], [illegible] The [illegible] of the new era of romance, poetry [illegible] art, [illegible]

"For as to fairy [illegible] that flit
Upon the green [illegible] fresh,
[illegible]
[illegible] But far too spare of flesh."

[illegible] yesterday, [illegible] the [illegible] and the [illegible] after taking a survey of the [illegible] "Well, we will have [illegible] in the [illegible]." We took the liberty to [illegible] every day [illegible] time the [illegible] done [illegible]. If the [illegible] to "change" about [illegible] and that [illegible] had not [illegible] might be some [illegible] whether the [illegible] "O, yes," [illegible] they are [illegible] for I have often [illegible] say that [illegible] time and she [illegible] way to be to [illegible] to the daily [illegible] of the [illegible]. If the [illegible], after all, refuse to [illegible] when the [illegible] does, [illegible] be not [illegible] that [illegible].

[illegible]—We learn that Mr Wm C O'Hara of this city has [illegible] quite a large number of [illegible] for the [illegible], and we have been [illegible] a letter from the public [illegible] to him, acknowledging [illegible] and a list of [illegible] subscribers [illegible] in this city. They pay him a [illegible] and self sacrifice. It is no easy [illegible] forty five [illegible] in one club for any [illegible] and that Mr O'H[illegible] has done this and [illegible]. The paper, we believe, is a good one, edited with ability, and devoted to [illegible]. It is [illegible] itself to the [illegible].

[illegible] that during the [illegible] all sorts of fruit and vegetables [illegible] being [illegible] out of the [illegible]. [illegible] perhaps be [illegible] to procure, [illegible] also very [illegible] who had laid in [illegible] supplies [illegible], and have been [illegible] to again [illegible] daily [illegible] is not [illegible] sold for [illegible] days yet, the prices must advance.

[illegible] We have been [illegible] to [illegible] of the [illegible] Base Ball [illegible] of the [illegible] some [illegible] ago by the [illegible] of this city, [illegible] all the [illegible] of the State [illegible] in a State convention, to be [illegible] on the 21st day of February [illegible] to [illegible] a State Association [illegible]. Thus far, we believe but [illegible] of the [illegible] to the invitation; but there is yet time to elect delegates, and it is desired that all [illegible] of the State take such action.

[illegible] ELECTION.—The annual election of [illegible] of the [illegible] Guard, Oregon Militia, was held last [illegible] at the company's [illegible], resulting in the [illegible] J J M[illegible] 1st Lieut [illegible] 2d Lieut [illegible] Wm. H. [illegible] P. Conkley [illegible] O. Kinney, 4th Sergeant, [illegible] Donovan [illegible] and P [illegible] of the [illegible].

[illegible] FOR BALD HEADS.—It has long been known that [illegible] to have in one's [illegible]. It has been [illegible] that they are good [illegible] that it is [illegible] to do is to rub the bare spot [illegible] with the cut or [illegible].

IN [illegible] OF REVENUE LAWS.—Mr D. Burgett, lately convicted of [illegible] the U. S. revenue laws, was [illegible] in the county jail [illegible] of a fine of $100 and costs of the prosecution. His term of [illegible] is fixed at [illegible] days. Mr John B Walsh, convicted of violating the [illegible] laws by [illegible] stamping [illegible] has been sent to jail for a term of [illegible].

[illegible] The [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] motto, had the effect to run a good [illegible] of the [illegible] merchants short of goods and they [illegible] to resort to [illegible] means of transportation [illegible] yesterday, from [illegible] up the [illegible] with goods. The [illegible] are [illegible] in good condition [illegible].

[illegible]—We heard a rumor yesterday [illegible] the North American Steamship Co [illegible] to [illegible] on the [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] foundation than that the [illegible] by the Oriflamme [illegible] having [illegible] such talk in San Francisco. It is not at all [illegible].

[illegible] It is said that a horse race will take place at 2 P. M. to-day over the road below the Boneyard, [illegible] to $300 a side; [illegible] two hundred yards. [illegible] neither of the animals are [illegible] to the public, betters will have to depend exclusively on their [illegible] in [illegible] their wagers.

OVERLAND FROM THE DALLES.—Mr Smith of the Dalles, arrived overland [illegible] day with a saddle train and half [illegible] The men report that on Monday [illegible] Cann and Blakeny at the [illegible]. The trail was full of ice and not only [illegible] but [illegible] to travel. The party, however, met with no serious [illegible].

[illegible] FOR THE RAILROAD ORDINANCE.—The petitions [illegible] to the Council last evening praying for the passage of the railroad ordinance contained the names of nearly eight hundred persons, embracing a large proportion of all the principal capitalists of the city. This [illegible] is more than half of the total vote.

MAIL [illegible] TO MONTICELLO.—The carrier of the Monticello and [illegible] mails who left here yesterday [illegible] Mr. Shea, of Vancouver, who has hitherto [illegible] carried the mails between that place and this city. He will go down on the north side of the Columbia.

[illegible] STEAMER LEWISTON.—The excursion trip of the opposition steamer Lewiston, did not take place yesterday, as heretofore announced, the boat not being ready. It is now said that she will make the excursion to the mouth of the Yamhill river, on Saturday next.

[illegible] LINE WORKING.—The news published this [illegible] came over the wires from the South. The line in that direction is all right again and should no humming bird or fire-fly conclude to buck against it, will probably remain so for an hour or two, at least.

[illegible]—Arrived per steamer Alert, from Oregon City [illegible], 2,570 qr sacks flour, 250 gunnies wheat [illegible] hogs, 17 sacks dried fruit, 4 bbls lard, 3 [illegible] 1 bale woolen goods, and 3 cases butter.

[illegible]—Posters are up all over town, announcing that the U. S. Marshal will sell at [illegible] on Saturday next, the goods and chattels of R. A. Sutherland, [illegible] for the benefit of [illegible].

They have quite a fair stock of goods of good quality and by the next steamer [illegible] to receive a very extensive and varied assortment. They intend to keep up a first class family grocery and provision store. Give them a call.

DR. C. W. COOL,
DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold. It makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. This new style of plate has its [illegible] very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December 31 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has [illegible] of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.
OFFICE—temporarily at the private parlor of the New Columbian Hotel. dec31 3ptf

The Little Heroine.

"Morning again!" and the weary, wasted invalid lifted his head from the pillow and looked pitifully over the dim room. "O, that the night had been longer!" To the wretched sleep is dear. "My wife—my darling babies—must they freeze and starve?" And with tears gushing from his eyes, the pale man buried his head in the scanty covering and groaned aloud.

It was no wonder that he was out of heart on that cold, dark December day. At best he had a hard struggle to get food, and for the past six months the struggle had been almost desperate, for his wife had been unable to assist him in the least, being confined to her bed with a slow, wasting disease. His little daughter, Maria, a pretty child of twelve, kept the room tidy, and herself and two little brothers, like wax. By the aid of her mother's whispered directions, she also managed to do up the [illegible] washing and ironing.

"My little sunbeam," the father fondly called her, while the mother would say, in her low, sweet tone, "our angel."

One night the young housekeeper waited until it was pitch dark for her father to come home to a frugal supper, and then, with fearful forebodings at her heart, undressed the little boys and put them to bed, and tied on her hood and cloak to go for him. A crowd was at the very threshold. With a wild cry, she rushed toward the inanimate form they carried upon the board. It was her father brought home with a broken leg.

A week had passed since this misfortune. By the sale of their few pieces of furniture, the wolf had been kept from the door. But now, nothing [illegible] save the coarse bed on which the dis[illegible] ones slept. No coal for the little grate; no tea for the feverish lips, no crust for the famished children! What should be done?

It was the question little Maria asked again as they lay there watching the few pale sunbeams that struggled through the window. And she asked it [illegible] after she had risen and dressed herself and little brothers, and smoothed the two [illegible]. Bread they must have, and that day. [illegible] all faint, even now, and the boys clamored for their breakfast.

Suddenly a bright thought came to the little daughter. She remembered having seen in the [illegible] houses, young girls no taller than she, waiting upon customers. Perhaps they would try her. "I am handy, quick and patient, and I will try so much to oblige." I am pretty, too, she might have added, had there been a spark of [illegible] in her heart; for she was a sweet child, with a brow like a [illegible] snow drift, and eyes like the [illegible] violets that nestle in the wood-[illegible]. "I will try, at least, and see what I can do," and after watching a moment the sleep of her weary [illegible] she whispered to her little [illegible] that she was going out to get some bread [illegible], and then hurried away.

She did go to the baker's, but her pitiful story [illegible] his heart, and there were tears upon her cold [illegible] as she turned away. What [illegible] she asked herself the question with a quivering lip. Never before had [illegible] poverty driven them to that strait, and it [illegible], with the picture of that [illegible] home fresh in her vision, to plead for [illegible]. Again and again she said to the passer-by, "Please, sir, please ma'am, give me a penny to buy bread with for my sick [illegible]."

And the gentlemen had their overcoats buttoned [illegible], and the ladies were enveloped in furs, and it was too much trouble to find the [illegible] or purses just to supply a beggar's [illegible].

"Go to the soup house," said one, at last, more [illegible] than the rest. "The city provides for [illegible] as you."

It was a new idea to her, and as fast as her feet [illegible] she went, and entering in breathless [illegible], told her story to the matron.

"I will [illegible] to the committee," said the [illegible], making a memorandum of the [illegible] and number of the street. "Come in to-[illegible], and I will do what I can for [illegible]."

[illegible] would hasten too weak to [illegible] and what would become of the [illegible]

[illegible] heavy [illegible] she went home, having no [illegible] if as a waiter to any of the [illegible] shop [illegible].

"[illegible] got it?" cried the boys, gathering [illegible] her, and pulling her cloak to see if it [illegible] her arms.

"Did you get some?" asked two faint voices [illegible], and the coverlet was thrown off, and two pairs of thin, white hands put forth.

"No, no," she answered plaintively, "but [illegible] Keep up good hope."

"[illegible] will be [illegible] out of the oven now. [illegible]," she said to herself, as she buttoned [illegible] the threshold; "plenty, and I'll [illegible], too. They shall not starve. Men and [illegible]; God, doesn't hear me any [illegible]. There is [illegible] left for me to do but to [illegible]

[illegible] as she [illegible] it, and for a moment [illegible] wrestling in her heart. [illegible] so quickly, pausing a moment before [illegible] door, and looking anxiously [illegible] found one that seemed to [illegible]

[illegible] of steaming leaves lay upon the [illegible]

[illegible] one, and hiding it under [illegible] up the street. But the [illegible] from the little sitting-room, [illegible] her, crying lustily, "Stop thief, [illegible]." The [illegible] followed her, and the [illegible] down.

"[illegible]," said the police officer, who took her. "She must go to the court room." In vain [illegible] with bowed head told her story.

[illegible] do their duty, she might have begged [illegible] might have gone to the soup house; [illegible] for stealing, at any rate.

[illegible], and her mother was dying for food! [illegible] trial was just closing, and all the [illegible] to the court house were thronged.

"[illegible] soon," said the officer to [illegible] "we'll wait here a few minutes."

"[illegible]," said she sadly; they [illegible] at me so. My poor mother will die [illegible] I am lost."

"[illegible] find out where you are," said he [illegible]. "Bad news is like lightning, it travels [illegible]."

"[illegible] dear, oh dear! What will become of [illegible]," and she sobbed aloud.

[illegible] little girl about her age was passing by—a [illegible] you would know it by the embroidered [illegible] and [illegible], the rich velvet hood, and [illegible] for [illegible] and muff. But there [illegible] under the expensive [illegible] a warm heart was beating there, and [illegible] went out far towards the little prisoner. For a moment she paused, as if irresolute [illegible] her plan of [illegible]; then laying her hand gently on the [illegible] arm, she said politely:

"[illegible] with her?"

"Oh yes; she is not committed yet."

[illegible] soft rosy [illegible] close to the purple cold one, she whispered very earnestly. Maria told her [illegible] story, and begged she would, by [illegible] her [illegible], find out her [illegible], and comfort the distressed ones.

"Well, I will," the stranger replied, earnestly; "and don't you cry any more; my father knows the Judge, and he'll get you away to-morrow. Good-bye, keep up a good heart," and off she ran.

She knew her mother to be one of the most [illegible], and hastened home to tell her story of Maria; but, unfortunately she had just [illegible] to ride and would not be back till dinner [illegible].

"What can I do?" she cried, and wrung her [illegible].

"There was coal, and bread, and tea, and so [illegible] things, and I have only ten cents in my [illegible]."

She sat down on the marble steps and pondered. All at once her eyes brightened and a beautiful [illegible] flushed in her face.

"I'll do it," she said resolutely, "mamma will forgive me when she knows all. Without fire, without food, nearly naked, starving. Oh, she will be glad that I thought so far; and she bounded down the street and rushed around the [illegible].

[illegible] up the plate-glass door of the most [illegible] hair dresser in the city, she went quickly up to the attendant, and asked to see Monsieur B. He [illegible] her into an inner room saying he would call him.

Her heart fluttered while she waited, but her [illegible] did not fail her.

"Ah! it is my little Theresa," and Monsieur B. took her hand kindly. "Good morning, my little dear. Come to have your ringlets dressed for the ball to-night eh?" as she shook her head, "why not? you go certainly; you are one of Monsieur's best pupils. What is it then, my [illegible]?"

For a moment her lips quivered; then she spoke up quickly.

"You said once you would give an eagle for my [illegible]. Will you do it now—to-day—this minute?"

The hair dresser was astonished. What could the child mean? To cut off those curls, long, silken, and golden colored, the pure gold of a stray sunbeam; to sell them was surely a crime.

"Does she—your mother—does she know you came here?"

"No, sir; but she will not blame me when I tell her how it was. Oh, no, she is too good."

"And how much is it, my dear? Make a friend of me, and tell me how it comes you ask me to buy your hair," and he stroked the glossy curls as tenderly as a father might.

She hesitated, and then opened her heart to him. There was a mist in his eyes when she finished her plaintive story. He walked the floor as if irresolute; then stopping before her, he took out his pocket book, and handed her two half eagles. She put them in her purse, and took off her hood.

"Not now, my little angel!" he said, huskily, "not now, I am too busy; to-morrow will do as well, or, stay, I will come in this evening. Till then do not mention it to any one. Go now, on your mission, my sister of charity," and he led her to the door.

How quickly her little feet flew over the pavement! She could hardly speak when she reached the baker's shop.

"Two loaves, sir—large ones, too," she gasped, and threw down one of the gold pieces.

The man stared at her curiously. The color rose to her brow, but she said nothing, but hurried away with her warm, fragrant bundle.

"Is that you Maria? What kept you so long, daughter? Quick, and break me a crumb, I am faint."

Like an angel the little stranger looked to them as she glided in, her cheeks like apple blossoms and her hair falling over her shoulders like ripples of sunshine.

"Maria cannot come home yet," she said in a voice that was a robin's in May time. "But she will return to-morrow; perhaps this evening. She has sent me with the bread. See the two nice loaves I've brought," and she broke it up in fragments.

Tears coursed down her face as she saw how eagerly they clutched them. She had never dreamed of poverty like this; never known how hungry folks may be and live.

"I must go now," she said, opening the door, "but I will come again soon and make you comfortable," and she hurried to the nearest grocer and bought a basket full of provisions, and told him to send in some kindlings and coal.

The little boys helped her build a fire in the stove, and when it blazed merrily, she put on the kettle and soon had a refreshing cup of tea for each invalid, and a platter of smoking potatoes for the children.

"Where is Maria, do you know, my little angel?" asked the sick mother, as she handed back the cup.

"Oh, yes, I know," she answered cheerfully. "Didn't I say she would be home early to-morrow? Don't worry. Better days are coming. I'll bring her in the morning. Good-by."

It was as though a fairy had come and vanished; a kind hearted fairy, for beside the supply of coal and wood, a half eagle lay in the sick father's hand.

Mus[illegible] to himself all the [illegible] adjectives in the French language, the good hair-dresser immediately hurried to the court-room. The Judge was a friend of his, too. She had been brought in, the court having adjourned for half an hour. He asked for a private interview with the Judge. As soon as it was granted, he told him all Maria's distress, and the generous kindness of little Theresa.

"Poor child! good child!" said the listener, wiping his glasses. "She must go to prison, I suppose, but it shall be to a chamber in my own house. Go into court and tell the same story over; it will be better than a lawyer's plea."

He did so, and there was not a dry eye in the audience when he [illegible]. Even the baker hung his head and seemed to muse. Before the breathless silence had been broken, he looked up and said to the Judge, "I withdraw my complaint; let her go with me and take all she wants."

The spacious room rung with applause, and while the enthusiasm was at its height, a thoughtful old man went about the crowd with his hat. People's fingers found their pocket books as if by intuition, and when he poured the collection into Maria's apron, she screamed with joy. No more hunger, no more cold, no more nakedness that winter. They were rich.

The baker took her home himself, and told her at the door not to worry about the bread till Spring, for his wagon would leave them all they wanted every morning. How lightly she bounded up the staircase. It was like a bird's footfall, a singing bird's in time of flowers.

"Have you come, Maria?" two voices spoke at once.

"Yes, mother, yes, father, and we are rich—see!" and she emptied her apron on the bed. How merrily the silver and gold coin jingled! It was like the echo of a harvest song, the distant echo brought back by summer breezes.

"Bless you, my little sunbeam; bless you, my angel." And two hands were laid upon her head, and tears and smiles were strangely mixed together.

"What does it mean, Theresa?" and the mother looked wonderingly at her beautiful little daughter as she came into the parlor in obedience to a message brought by a servant. "Monsieur B. says you promised to see him to-night."

"I did, mamma. Did you bring your scissors, sir? And she carried a footstool to the sofa, upon which he sat, and quietly nestled to his feet.

"Yes, my dear, see!" and he took from his pocket a shining pair.

"Theresa, what means this?" the mother spoke sternly.

"I have sold my hair to him, mamma, and he has come to cut it off."

"Sold your hair—cut it off! Were you crazy? Are you in earnest?" And she gathered her to her side and laid her hand protectingly over the precious curls.

"Tell her how it was, sir. She won't be angry then. Please, sir, tell her."

He did so. And when it was finished she covered her face with her [illegible], and said in a broken voice:

"'Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.'"

A single ringlet was severed from that beautiful head that night—one long, soft, golden curl, which the hair-dresser carried home as reverently as though it had come from an angel's wing. On the morrow he had it woven into a heart's ease, and the sunny, shining human flower was ever afterwards worn next to his heart, a talisman against besetting sins.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, seemed only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the Inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the p[illegible] of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes—a bad case—for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg, JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

CARD.

DR BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

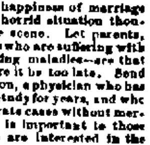
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] fully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER
Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

-  CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.
-  CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
-  IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may asperse my motives; but the desire to point out to those who [illegible], languish and decay, the true cause of their affliction, is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How extended the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness is, no one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell; but its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms; Weakness of the back and limbs; [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power; nerv[illegible]; irritability; cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head; symptoms of consumption; short breath; flushings of the face; aversion to society; confusion of the mind; loss of memory; nightly emissions; colorless; slight discharges upon the least excitement; trembling, palpitation of the heart; irregular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the various symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self [illegible] even in the SLIGHTEST DEGREE, you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is not a disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger; for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the bent form and [illegible] steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye!

Drowsiness is one of the [illegible] symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually into a great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights succeed days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to assume sudden changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system, unprepared for the exigencies of the occasion, suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable condition, from which there is but the slightest hope of recovery. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepid, and degenerate. This is applicable to both sexes, whether married or single, and to all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of the terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when taken in time, always guaranteed, and full and proper vigor restored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated, show a record unsurpassed by any hospital in the world, and the success that has invariably marked the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a thoroughly established medical principle that those poisonous drugs, by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and destroy life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases, in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration, without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be, "Where is there a physician competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community?" The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous or designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed—consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided, when desired, where can be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and faithful nurses.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or destroyed.

Consultation Free.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical Institute,
No. 536 Washington Street,
jan13d1y4p San Francisco, Cal.

THE [illegible] infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitution of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy [illegible] the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children [illegible] the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates [illegible] various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you [illegible] have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. [illegible] it does [illegible] virtues [illegible] in their effect upon this class of [illegible] is indisputably proven by the [illegible] of publicly known and [illegible] has made of the following [illegible] Evil, or [illegible] Eruptions, [illegible] Salt [illegible], Scald Head, Coughs [illegible] in the [illegible] Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, [illegible] Dyspepsia or Indigestion, [illegible] Syphilitic Infections, [illegible] Female Weakness, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from [illegible] of the blood. Minute reports of [illegible] cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein [illegible] learned the directions for its use, and [illegible] of the remarkable cures which it has [illegible] when all other remedies had failed to [illegible] relief. Those cases are purposely [illegible] from all sections of the country, in [illegible] that [illegible] one who can speak to him of its benefits [illegible] personal experience. Scrofula [illegible] vital [illegible], and thus [illegible] more subject to disease and its fatal [illegible] than are healthy constitutions. [illegible] tends to shorten, and does [illegible] the average duration of human life. [illegible] vast importance of these [illegible] led us to spend years in perfecting [illegible] which is adequate to its cure. [illegible] offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is [illegible] ingredients, some of which exceed the [illegible] of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the [illegible] ing and danger of these disorders. [illegible] out the foul corruptions that rot and [illegible] in the blood, purge out the causes of [illegible] and vigorous health will follow. By [illegible] liar virtues this remedy [illegible] the [illegible] functions, and thus expels the [illegible] which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor [illegible] this. Its virtues have been proven by [illegible] dant trial, and [illegible] its surpassing excellence for the [illegible] of the afflicting diseases it is [illegible] Although under the same [illegible], it is a different medicine from any other [illegible] been before the people, and is far [illegible] effectual than any other which has [illegible] available to them.
